and Damon until May 31, 1885, when Damon purchased the interest of Bishop and became the sole proprietor.

A month later Damon took in as partner Colonel J. H. Fisher and H. E. Wally. Fisher had been with the bank since January 31, 1882 and Wally since December 31, 1894.

At the close of 1899 Fisher retired from the firm and on January 1, 1901, Damon's eldest son, S. Edward Damon, was admitted to partnership, the firm name then becoming Damon, Wally & Damon. This partnership lasted until the retirement of Wally, June 7, 1904, and the death of S. Edward Damon, September 24, 1904. Alexander Garvie was admitted to partnership, October 1, 1904, and April 1, 1905, A. W. T. Bottomley joined the firm, which then became Damon, Garvie & Bottomley. A short time later Garvie died, and the firm became Damon & Bottomley, as it is today.

Bishop Trust Co.

The trust companies of Honolulu are an important figure in the financial life of the city, they having to do with an enormous number of transactions in various lines of business. Some of these companies are independent, in a measure, of banks, but most of them are auxiliaries, as it were, of banking institutions. The latter is the case with the Bishop Trust Company, in Bethel street. This company is an offshoot of Bishop & Company, and is engaged in every feature of the trust business. It also handles real estate with a select clientele; and is extensively interested in the stock and bond business. Mr. R. R. Reidford is manager of the Bishop Trust Company, the other officers of the company being also officers of Bishop & Company.

The Bishop Trust Company also has a ladies' department in charge of Miss Janet T. MacIntyre.

Hawaiian Trust.

The Hawaiian Trust Company was organized (under another name) and incorporated August 10, 1898, with a capital of $30,000. Its capital is now $200,000.

The Hawaiian Trust was originally a straight trust concern, but the needs of the community caused it to broaden out into insurance, real estate, stocks and bond, etc. In all of these sub-lines the corporation has been remarkably successful, and at the end of this month will have broken all records for a calendar year.

The Hawaiian Trust has enormous interests in its charge—the total value probably running over $8,000,000.

This institution had an exceptionally promising start, being particularly
